Day 4

The global body of Christ has been through a lot over the last year - a global pandemic and global recession. What is the Spirit doing and saying? He is orchestrating events to create the optimal environment for the Church to respond in wholehearted surrender, 'seeking first the Kingdom of God,' prioritizing His plans among "all the peoples of the earth." This is not a day to draw back from committed focus on the fulfillment of the Great Commission, but to give ourselves entirely to this escalating purpose of God. This glorious purpose is not merely for a few 'missionary types' but for every believer to identify and become activated in their role.

Let's pray...

ABANDONED DEVOTION IN THE CHURCH:

- Believers and local churches experiencing greater revelation of Jesus as He is in beauty, glory and goodness, instead of the often conjured up (small) image of Jesus. (Ephesians 1:17; Rev. 1:9-17)
- Believers and local churches embracing true brokenness (Psalm 51:17), coming to the end of themselves, relying completely on God as 'All in All!' (Matthew 5:3; Romans 6:11)
- Believers and local churches moving away from traditional, religious Christianity and walking in true, relational discipleship according to Jesus' standards. (Matthew 5-7)

GROWING MISSION MOBILIZATION IN THE CHURCH:

- The global Church experiencing needed paradigm shifts in 'missions,' embracing the Biblical emphasis of the 'Great Commission' being the consistent thread from Genesis to Revelation and the purpose of the unfolding of history. (Matthew 24:14)
- The global Church putting Jesus' Kingdom purposes and plans above our own 'tunnel vision' (Proverbs 19:21), kingdom-building' agendas, returning to what is of the utmost importance on the heart of God.
- Thousands of individual churches globally taking up their calling as a Great Commission Ministry, emphasizing and prioritizing the Great Commission within their fellowship.
